

Rob Seim to retire and join Omnicell Board of Directors

September 14, 2018

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif., Sept. 14, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Omnicell, Inc. (NASDAQ: OMCL), the leading provider of medication and supply management technology across the continuum of care, today announced that Rob Seim, President of Global Automation and Medication Adherence, has indicated his intent to retire as of March 15, 2019. The company also announced the appointment of Mr. Seim to the Board of Directors following his retirement. Mr. Seim served Omnicell as its Chief Financial Officer for nearly 10 years and was also Executive Vice President of Finance, Administration, and Manufacturing during that time. For the past three years, Mr. Seim has served as President of Global Automation and Medication Adherence which includes responsibility for all of the non-US business of Omnicell, several product lines, and worldwide manufacturing. During his 13 years at Omnicell, revenue grew over 550% and market valuation grew over 8 fold.

"Rob has been an instrumental member of the leadership team since joining Omnicell in 2006," said Randall Lipps, Omnicell Chairman, President, Chief Executive Officer and Founder. "As a member of Omnicell's Board of Directors, we will continue to have access to Rob's experience, insight, and financial acumen as he transitions to the next chapter of his life."

Mr. Seim has provided sufficient notice for the company to make a thoughtful and orderly transition of his responsibilities, which will be announced closer to his actual date of retirement in 2019. "Omnicell is uniquely positioned in the healthcare market with solutions that automate pharmacy and supply workflows, freeing clinicians to focus on patients, improving patient safety, and driving down costs of healthcare," said Mr. Seim. "I've been very fortunate to be able to contribute to Omnicell's vision of improving healthcare for everyone and look forward to continuing to contribute to the company's success as a board member."
